18 VOGUE TALENTS

Istituto Marangoni Paris

The Istituto Marangoni Paris International postgraduate programme is the French Capital in 2008 with the opening of Avenue Printemps. It has now moved to Rue de l'Abreuvoir at the central 8th arrondissement to offer its students larger spaces, and a new design concept. As well as BA, MA and short courses, the campus proposes intensive programmes in Fashion Business & Brand Management, and Fashion Image. Styling & Communication. One of the Istituto Marangoni’s Paris students, Sasho Hossar, won the International Women’s Wear Award at the Alternative Fashion Show of London’s Graduate Fashion Week 2013.

JAPAN COCONOGACC

Coconogacco is a private fashion design school founded by Yoshikazu Tanigata in 2008 in Tokyo. Coconogacco's name means 'school of knots' or 'school of non-sense'. The school is run by Japanese designer Tanigata, who combines creativity and collaboration with his students. Former students have won several prizes, including the Grand Prix at the International Fashion Design Competition. The school is located in the trendy district of Shibuya, known for its fashion and culture.

NEW ZEALAND CITAGO POLYTECHNIC

CITAGO Politechnic offers a range of courses in fashion and design. The courses are designed to provide students with the skills and knowledge required for careers in the fashion industry. The school offers a range of courses including fashion design, fashion technology, and apparel technology. The courses are taught by industry professionals and provide students with practical experience through industry placements and internships.

SOUTH AFRICA ELIZABETH GALLOWAY ACADEMY OF FASHION DESIGN

The Elizabeth Galloway Academy of Fashion Design is one of the leading fashion design schools in South Africa. The school offers a range of courses in fashion design, including both diploma and certificate programmes. The school is known for its strong industry connections and provides students with opportunities to gain practical experience through internships and placements. The school has a focus on sustainability and ethical practices and encourages students to think critically about the fashion industry and its impact on society.

SPAIN IED BARCELONA

Barcelona Graduates are known for their creativity and innovation. As an international design school, IED Barcelona offers a range of programmes in fashion design, including both diploma and bachelor programmes. The school is located in the trendy district of Gracia, and provides students with access to a rich cultural and social life. The school is committed to sustainability and ethical practices, and encourages students to think critically about the fashion industry and its impact on society.