What will I gain?

Gain the accounting technical knowledge you need

If you want to contribute at a more senior level within your work environment, you need to have a sound understanding of the technical components of accounting. You will learn how to record and process a wide range of financial transactions and apply the correct accounting standards when preparing financial statements and reports.

Learn how to minimise business risk

Having the right knowledge to minimise business risk is essential when operating within a leadership role. This expertise is even more important when it applies to the financial area of a business. You need to understand the internal and external controls and processes that are required within a business to minimise risk as well as full knowledge of legal and professional requirements.

Discover how to make informed decisions that enhance business performance

Effective, informed and accurate decision making is a core requirement. You need to be able to analyse and interpret financial information accurately and with confidence to make informed decisions, prepare budgets and monitor performance. The right knowledge will give you that confidence.

Learn about the accounting professions code of ethics

Trusted roles within a business generally have a professional body that oversees member behaviour and practice. The code of Ethics provides an important and informed guide about what is and what isn't acceptable business behaviour.

Career opportunities

Become ready to take on a variety of careers with the skills and knowledge to be employed in a variety of business entities in roles like finance administrator or inventory controller.
